

Notice Regarding Foreign Language (English) Examinations for Entrance to the Doctoral Program in Medicine

※This is the entrance examination information for admission in April 2023.

The University of Tokyo does not administer a separate test of English proficiency to applicants for the Doctoral Program in Medicine, Graduate School of Medicine. However, because the Doctoral Program in Medicine seeks to train students who are willing and able to act as international leaders in all fields of medicine, proficiency in English is important and expected to exceed a TOEFL-iBT score of 60 upon admission to the program. Applicants with a TOEFL-iBT score lower than 60 at the time of application are eligible to apply to the program and take the examination.

All applicants must submit official TOEFL score reports, as described below, unless they are exempt, as detailed in the NOTES section, below. Those who believe they are exempt from submitting a TOEFL score report should contact us by email at in.m@gs.mail.u-tokyo.ac.jp.

1.	Valid TOEFL Scores	TOEFL-iBT, TOEFL iBT® Home Edition, TOEFL ITP® Plus for China solution, TOEFL-PBT
2.	Period of Validity	TOEFL scores for tests taken on or after October 1, 2020 are valid.
3.	Submission Process (Step 1): Test Taker Score Report (Examinee Score Report)	Together with the other application documents, please submit the following documents: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>✓ A copy of the Test Taker Score Report sent to the examinee by Educational Testing Service (ETS)</li> <li>✓ A screen copy of the application result for the Institutional Score Report that shows the date of the application to ETS</li> </ul>
4.	Submission Process (Step 2): Institutional Score Report	Please request ETS to forward the Institutional Score Report to The University of Tokyo Faculty of Medicine (Designated Institution [DI] Code 8426). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>✓ When making the request, do not use “The University of Tokyo” or the DI code for other graduate schools of the University of Tokyo.</li> <li>✓ Because it may take a couple of months after the Institutional Score Report is requested from ETS for it to reach the Graduate School of Medicine from abroad, please make the request to ETS as early as possible. If multiple Institutional Score Reports arrive at the Graduate Students Affairs Section, the score that is identical to the Test Taker Score Report will be accepted.</li> <li>✓ For details, please refer to the TOEFL website at https://www.ets.org/jp/toefl/.</li> </ul>
5.	Cautions	Please note that TOEFL scores will NOT be accepted in the situations described below. In such situations, the applicant will be assumed not to have taken the foreign language (English) examination. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) The Institutional Score Report from ETS is not received.</li> <li>(2) The examination dates and scores noted on the Test Taker Score Report are not identical to those on the Institutional Score Report.</li> </ul>

NOTES

- (1) You may be exempted from submitting an English score if you are a non-Japanese national and have completed or are expected to complete an 18-year school education (primary, secondary, and tertiary education) in which the final field of study is medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, or veterinary medicine in a country in which the primary language of instruction is English. All educational institutions attended must be accredited educational institutions in that country.
If you believe you qualify for this exemption, please notify us by email at in@m.u-tokyo.ac.jp by June 30, 2022.
- (2) If for some reason you cannot submit any of the score reports described above, email us by June 30, 2022 at in.m@gs.mail.u-tokyo.ac.jp to explain your situation.
