

We have recently been made aware of unauthorized recruitment activities for a program that is being presented as if it were officially affiliated with our university. Please note that this program is not an official program of the university, and we have no involvement in its organization or operation.

We strongly advise students, faculty, and prospective participants to exercise caution and verify the authenticity of any program before applying or sharing personal information. Official university programs are always announced through our official website, official email communications, or other authorized university channels.

If you come across such suspicious recruitment activities, please do not engage with them and report the matter to the university immediately. Protecting our community from misleading or fraudulent activities is our top priority.
